THE BOSTGEN GHOST.

An Apparition That Caused Fear and Business Ruin

With Eyes of Fire, Ghastly White Face It Played Midnight Pranks—Singular Death of Some of the Neighbors.

CHICAGO, June 24.—Mrs. Elizabeth Bostgen had a saloon on East Kinzie street, and recently its stock and fixtures were sold and the place closed. She one day, highly excited and with hair disheveled and dress disordered, told a neighbor of the experience she had with a ghost, ever since she came to the house in March last. The relator is a woman of very nervous temperament, and the apparition she claims was in the form of a man coming into her room every night, walking about for a few minutes and then leaving. She said "I tried to talk to him several times, but he would not answer me, but just kept on walking up and down my room, looking at me all the time with eyes that resembled balls of fire, they were so bright. The first night I was nearly frightened out of my life, but the man didn't seem to be anxious to do me any harm, and after a while I got used to it. Ever since then he has come every night at the same hour—2 o'clock."

"The last two nights he has taken to rocking my bed. Why, my bed rocked just like a cradle last night and the night before that." I said to him: "You don't need to rock me, I am awake; but the bed kept rocking, and it rocked clean up till morning."

When her husband, a pleutonic German, fond of his beer and sleep, was asked if he had ever seen the ghost, he said:

"V, dot feller come right in my room mit every nacht. De first nacht he come and take hole my hand. I tink it was my wife, and I say, 'What for piness you haf coming into my room ober helef past 1 o'clock?' but my wife make no answer, and I rise up mit de bed and see dot feller. 'Mein Gott!' I say, 'who de teufel was you?' but he make no answer, ober he groan, and he take my odder hand and hole it in his, which was like ice. I was not aptle to say a word, ober de first minute, but pime by I lay back and cry, 'Eliza! Eliza! what for dere pe a ghost here, und den de feller he groan again und get out mit der door.'"

The peculiar part of the story is, that the husband and wife occupied separate rooms, and when asleep the room door of Bostgen was locked and bolted, said he: "I was vated away mit a mere shadder. Dot woman brought me to Chicago," he said, in a paroxysm of anger, "by cheat. Ve was done a goot piness in Harrisburg, und she says, 'Come to Chicago, und we make more money.' I been here five years, und I see ghosts und dead beebles ever since I peen in dis tam city. I go back to Broad street und Ridge road, in Harrisburg, und leef dot woman here."

Mrs. Bostgen described the apparition as being about five feet nine inches high, without beard or hat, and wearing very nice clothes; his face was as white as a sheet of your paper, and he had a sad expression in his eyes.

One night she tried to catch him, but "my hand," said she, "went clean through his breast, just where his heart ought to be, and I could see the fingers protruding on the other side of him. When I pulled my hand away the hole in his body still remained, and then everything was blank. You see, I never told anybody about this, because I feared to injure my business, and as it was good I didn't care to move away. I had a good many boarders, but all have left there except two. I think they must have been visited, because they never gave me any reason for leaving. I went to Mr. Becker on one occasion, and told him about a strange odor that I smelled in the house. I believe it came from the remains of somebody who had been murdered and put under the eaves, but he laughed at me, and told me if I wanted to I could take up the floors and hunt for it. But even stranger than this," Mrs. Bostgen said, conducting the reporter to her own room, "is this: Right in the center of my bed is a warm spot. That spot is always hot, while the other part of the bed is cool. Now," said she, turning the coverslet down, "put your hand there and see if the spot isn't hot." From the remarkable story Mrs. Bostgen had told, both husband and wife are fit subjects for a lunatic asylum. A significant fact to superstitious people is that Mrs. O'Brien, who occupied the house just before Mrs. Bostgen took it, dropped dead while cooking at her range, and another tenant, sister-in-law of Robert Hanish's, is now in the mad-house.

DICKINSON'S CENTENNIAL.

An Institution That Numbers Its Years With Those of the Government.

CARLEISLE, PA., June 24.—Yesterday as a part of the programme of the Centennial commencement exercises of Dickinson College Bishop Bowman, an Alumnus of the institution, delivered a sermon before the Society of Religious Inquiry, and the President of the College preached a Baccalaureate. The other exercises of the week are in keeping with the important event, including on Wednesday the address before the Alumni by the Rev. George L. Crooks, L.L.D., and a poem by General Horatio C. King.

The college was founded in 1783, and named in honor of John Dickinson, the President of the Executive Council of the State, who had taken a strong personal interest in the enterprise and donated largely from his purse toward the endowment of the institution. The college was originally organized under the auspices of the Presbyterians in the midst of a hasty Scotch Irish settlement. Rev. Charles Nisbet, D.D., of Montrose, Scotland, was elected the first President. During his Presidency, a massive stone building was erected in 1802. It was destroyed by fire in 1804, and what is now known as West College took its place in 1805. Finally, in 1833, as an outcome of the discussions on church polity and mooted points of doctrine, the control of the college was transferred to the Baltimore, Philadelphia and New Jersey annual conferences of the Methodist Church. The Rev. John P. Durbin was the first President under the new regime, and the college has since gone on flourishing financially and otherwise.

AN OCEAN COLLISION.

Second Class and Steerage Passengers Drowned—The Signals of Distress Unheeded.

LONDON, June 24.—The passenger vessels Hurunhui and Waitara, of the New Zealand Shipping Company, were in collision off Portland Friday night. The Waitara sank in two minutes, and twenty-five persons were drowned. The Hurunhui immediately launched her boats and rescued sixteen persons struggling in the water. Among those was a lady saloon passenger to whom a sailor, also saved, had given his life belt. Two other saloon passengers were also saved.

All the second class and steerage passengers were lost. The captain of Waitara was dragged aboard the Hurunhui with the aid of ropes. The two vessels left London together on Friday. The Hurunhui struck the Waitara end on, just in front of the saloon, on the starboard side. The survivors state that no crash was heard, but the side of the Waitara gave way like a cardboard. More passengers might have been saved had the Waitara's signals of distress. The Waitara was an iron ship of 833 tons, built in 1863. The Hurunhui is also an iron ship.

PANGBURN FOUND GUILTY.

A Trial Which Created a Sensation at Lockport, N. Y.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., June 24.—The trial of Charles Pangburn, indicted for criminal assault, which concluded by a verdict of guilty, has aroused great interest in this section from the peculiarity of the case. The prisoner, who has already served a term in the State Prison, is a married man. In February last young ladies prominent in society here were annoyed and terribly frightened on several occasions by a man who accosted them with insulting proposals after dark on quiet streets, and in two or three instances attempted to use force to compel compliance with his wishes, but the victims escaped. The police at length captured Pangburn, who was identified and indicted, though it was exceedingly difficult to get ladies to testify at the trial. In giving evidence one young lady fainted dead away, and was resuscitated with difficulty.

Suicide of a Defaulter.

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—The body of Charles Goodwin was found in the lake this morning near the breakwater. Goodwin had been missing since Wednesday last. He had held the position of cashier at the Union Freight Depot for fifteen years, and was a trusted employee. Large amounts of money passed through his hands, and an investigation of his accounts last night revealed the fact that he was a defaulter in the sum of $6,500. Goodwin was well connected, and lived on Prospect street. His wife is the daughter of Mr. Leek, of the firm of Leek, Doering & Co. He was thirty-two years of age. It is thought he made bad speculations, and sought death by his own hand rather than be disgraced.

Northern Pacific Gold Spike.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 24.—Active preparations are being made for the driving of the last spike of the Northern Pacific, thus linking the Pacific with the Atlantic, and opening up to this section of the country another world. The spike will be of gold and has already been made, and is now in the possession of President Villard. It has engraved upon it an inscription suitable to the occasion. The place selected for its reception is about ten miles out from Helena, going in the direction of Portland.

A Vigilance Committee in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 24.—A most desperate gang of thieves, murderers, and toughs infest the vicinity of Chestnut street and Center avenue. The respectable ladies in the neighborhood are so much frightened that they dare not venture out after night-fall, and the men are thoroughly aroused. At a meeting last evening a permanent vigilance committee was formed with a view of protection and possibly clearing out the cut-throats.

A Brutal Butchery.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., June 25.—News has just been received here of the killing of Daniel Frank by Jim Barnett, about twelve miles above Eufaula, on the Canadian river. Daniel Frank was living with Barnett. Last Thursday night, some time after 12 o'clock, Barnett called Frank out of the house and shot him several times. When Frank fell Barnett finished his work by cutting his head open with an ax and scattered his brains on the ground. The cause is supposed to be relations between Barnett's wife and Frank. Both were full blooded Creeks. No arrests.

Pauper Immigration.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The delegation of prominent Irish citizens from the several principal cities who waited upon the President in regard to the pauper immigration of their countrymen now coming to the United States were well pleased with the reception given them. They urged upon the President a strict enforcement of the laws relative to this class of immigrants, and were assured that the matter was being investigated.

FEMALE SAFE BLOWER

From Affluence and Respectability to Drink and Crime.

Mrs. Davis' Remarkable Career—Sequel to a School Girl's Elopement With a Convict Who Represented Himself as a Rich Southerner.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 25.—The arrest of Mrs. Maria Davis at Derby, this State, on the charge of being implicated in several burglaries committed in Nantucket Valley recently, reveals a strange course from wealthy and highly-respected position in society to crime. She is also charged with aiding in burglarizing the Bristol Postoffice, a store in Essex, and the works of the Derby Lumber Company, the proceeds of these crimes aggregating many thousands of dollars. All these burglaries showed that experts were at work, and all were remarkable for the daring of the robbers. A man named Davis was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the Derby case. Letters and memoranda found upon him directed the attention of the police to his wife. The Sheriff and a Deputy went to her house, knocked, and Mrs. Davis appeared at the window. On being told that they were officers, she ordered them to leave, threatening to shoot them if they did not. The Deputy Sheriff attempted to force the door, but two quickly fired revolver shots, both of which came unpleasantly near, caused him to abandon the work. Assistance was summoned, and while Mrs. Davis was directing her attention to the men in front another party gained entrance at a rear window. As they ascended the stairs she heard them, and closed and locked the door, when an attempt was made to break it. She fired several shots through the panels, one of which wounded Constable James Geary in the leg. This seemed to exhaust her ammunition, and entrance being gained the woman was secured after a struggle, handcuffed and taken to jail. The night watchman of the Derby Lumber company is confident that she is the woman who assisted to bind and gag him, the voice being familiar. According to his story, she was apparently the leader of the gang. She was at the time dressed in men clothing. The others appeared to her for orders, which she gave with the decision of a veteran commander. It was she who held the revolver to the watchman's head and threatened to blow his brains out if he uttered a word. Davis intimates that his wife has led him into crime, and that she has planned all the robberies in which he has taken part. As Davis is the recognized leader of the gang, Mrs. Davis is the actual head. Mrs. Davis is about 27 years of age and fairly good looking. She is a member of a wealthy Massachusetts family, and eloped from a boarding-school about eight years ago with Davis, who represented to her that he was a rich Southerner. As a matter of fact he had only been released a few months from prison, after serving out a term for larceny. Learning that the officers were after him for some newly-committed crime, he and his wife fled to the West, and for a time they were in Marietta, O., where Davis ran a sample-room, and later they went to Chicago, where they lived for several years. Davis, who was living under an assumed name, ran a billiard saloon. After leaving Chicago they wandered about the West and South, working the confidence game. Finally they turned up in Waterbury, Conn. Davis was then drinking heavily, but Mrs. Davis passed as a persecuted Christian, and was prominent in the class-meetings of the Methodist church. Finally she, too, took to drink, and gradually drifted into evil habits. She retained, however, her refined tastes, and it is supposed she indulged in burglary that she might accumulate money enough to move to some strange place and there live in aristocratic ease. In the room where she was arrested was a small book-case filled with well-selected books, which showed marks of frequent handling, and on a table an open copy of "Lucile" lay face downward, where had evidently placed it to take up her revolver. The proof against her is strong.

WHITE APACHE CHIEF.

An Adventurous American Deserts His Race for the Life of an Indian.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 24.—The white Apache recently wounded and captured has a brother in St. Louis. He says L. U. Streeter is the name of the Apache, and that he is forty-four years old and a full blooded American. As a child he was wild and venturesome. One morning, when he was about eleven years old, he started ostensibly to school, and was absent six months before it was learned that he had gone to sea. He followed the occupation of a sailor until 1857, with Sidney Johnston. In that year he accompanied Albert Sydney Johnston in his expedition against the Mormons. He joined the army in California and served with it one year, after which he went to Mexico and fought under the banner of Marez, leaving the service a Colonel. He then entered the service of the United States as interpreter at Fort Craig, where he soon gained great influence over the Indians. But the Indian Ring became hostile to him because he would speak his mind about their doings, and they finally procured his dismissal. They succeeded in having him declared an outlaw, and a price was placed on his head. This drove him beyond civilization and he has since been a big man among the Apaches.

EDITOR VS. EDITOR.

The Richmond Paste Throwers Fight a Duel—Editor Elam Killed.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—It is authoritatively reported that Editor Elam, of the Richmond Whig, was killed this morning by Editor Beirne, of the Richmond State, in a duel fought near Richmond, Va.

WATER RAVAGES.

Caused by the Breaks in the Mississippi Dykes—Losses Over $200,000.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—The river continued rising slowly all day yesterday. Wharfbuoats have floated alongside the buildings on parts of the levee. Factories on the river front stopped Saturday, and thousands of workmen are unemployed. Damage to crops by the breaking of levees, it is now believed, will reach $200,000. Some 25,000 acres of farm land is inundated, and 100,000 bushels of wheat ready for harvest was destroyed. East Carondelet people have abandoned their houses, and are sheltering in churches and school-houses, and fifty families are without food. Many people in East St. Louis, Venice, Badden, Lowell, and Brooklyn have abandoned their inundated houses and are living in box cars, tents, or in the open air. Yesterday morning water flowed through the break in the dike on the Illinois side broke through the embankments of the Chicago & Alton, Indianapolis & St. Louis, and Wabash railroads, nine miles below. This cuts off the transportation on these roads. The flood, rushing through this new gap, spread over a large farming region. Many men are working on the St. Louis dikes and levees to protect the lumber yards. Millions of feet of lumber are in danger. Venice and Enterprise elevators and transfer stock-yards have been damaged $10,000. St. Louis & Cairo belt railroad damaged $50,000. Creve Coeur ice house, worth $40,000, destroyed.

A Relic of the Polk Campaign.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Captain Isaiah Rynders has presented to the Democratic Board of Aldermen the large banner used by the Empire Club during the Polk campaign in 1844. It is of white silk, bears the portraits of Washington, Jefferson, and Polk, and the New York State arms; the inscriptions, "Enlarge the Boundaries of Freedom" and "Texas, Oregon." The red border of the banner is emblazoned with twenty-five gilt stars, representing the number of States comprising the Federal Union in 1844. Although the banner has not been used since the Democratic Convention at Charleston in 1860, the survivors of the club expect to take it to the next National Democratic Convention.

Archbishop's Funeral.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The arrangement for the funeral of the late Archbishop Frederic Wood to-morrow, have been completed. A solemn high pontifical mass in requiem will be celebrated at 10 o'clock in the cathedral, the celebrant being Right Rev. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton, the senior Bishop of the province. The sermon will be delivered by Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore. The remains will be interred in a crypt at the foot of the main altar in the cathedral. The services will be grand and impressive, and a great number of Catholic dignitaries will be in attendance. Archbishop Corrigan will represent Cardinal McClosky.

Silk Culture.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—Mrs. E. B. Johnson, Superintendent of the Silk Industrial Association, has placed on exhibition at the Cotton Exchange two samples of reeled silk made from cocoons raised by the Association. Both are of a very fine quality, and the thread even and round. That of the latter sample contains six cocoons throughout its entire length. An Italian silk manufacturer, who was in the city a few days since, saw the samples, and pronounced them equal to any Italian silk he had ever seen.

A Degraded Lieutenant.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Carrie Gardner, a domestic, twenty years old, pleaded guilty in Justice Bergen's Court in Brooklyn, to grand larceny in having stolen clothing and jewelry. She is an English girl, was made a Lieutenant of the Salvation Army in her native country and was detailed to come here and attack Satan in his stronghold.

Match Monopoly.

PITTSBURG, June 25.—Pittsburg and other Western dealers have been forced to sign agreements to sell goods of the Diamond Match Company and no others. In return they get a rebate of five per cent. Some of the local merchants are fighting the monopoly, because they have had to buy this year without knowing prices, as the big monopoly refuses to make known its rates under the repeal of the match tax. It is said that there are no troubles further east than this city.

Mrs. King William Will Not Object.

LONDON, June 25.—The Queen's condition is greatly improved. She was able to walk from the train to the carriage on her arrival at Windsor from Balmoral. The Queen has invited the painter, Angeli, to England to take a life-sized portrait, which she will present to Emperor William on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his assumption of the regency of Prussia.

Pauper Immigrants to Be Sent Back.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Of the 570 immigrants who arrived on the Furnessia yesterday, 300 were found to be of the assisted class from Ireland. Some of them did not have money enough to buy a postage stamp. The Commissioners of Emigration will meet this morning, and take steps for sending some of them back under the law which forbids the landing of paupers.

No Country Wants Him.

DUBLIN, June 25.—Carey, who is still confined in Kilmalsham Jail for his own protection, has, for the first time, offered to go to some foreign land, but scarcely expresses a preference and seems to be willing to go wherever the Government may think it advisable to send him.

The Salvation Army Throttled in a Swiss Canton.

NEUCHÂTEL, June 25.—The Council of State of Neuchâtel has forbidden the Salvation Army to hold meetings of any kind. It holds that the army is not a religious association, but a corporation very much like that of the Jesuits, for it is headed by a General having unlimited military authority. As a corporation, it can not settle in the canton of Neuchâtel, save by obtaining permission from the Great Council, and that permission will certainly be refused. Nevertheless, the Salvation Army has a few disciples at Neuchâtel, the most of whom are Swiss citizens. They will probably go on like the Genevese Salvationists. In Geneva they have three places of worship. English Salvationists are heard in their meetings, but they do not preside over the assembly for fear of attracting too much notice. The police overlooks these proceedings. It will probably be different in Neuchâtel. But should foreign Salvationists be forbidden to speak in private meetings, General Booth might send over preachers not belonging to his army, though acting in the same spirit and using the same methods. Thus the law could be evaded and the Government of Neuchâtel bantered, as it well deserves to be. The Salvationists in Geneva have neither processions, nor music, nor anything that would create any disturbance in the streets. It would have been easy to maintain our religious liberty, but political considerations intervened. Any ambitious of popularity must shout with the mob: "Down with the Salvationists! Away with religions coming from abroad!"

But such a state of things can not last much longer. Marechale Booth and Col. Clibborn are, for the present, seeking liberty in France, at Valence and at Nismes, where they hold meetings.

Texas Steers Stampede.

CHICAGO, June 24.—A terrible stampede of Texas steers occurred in the southwestern part of the city. One hundred and ten head of these untamed cattle, belonging to Libby, McNeil & Libby, broke from the driving corral and dashed wildly in all directions. The start was made on Halsted street, near 40th. The streets were filled with people, many of whom were transfixed with terror. Sixty cattle charged up Wentworth avenue, clearing it of everything living or movable. Mrs. Mary Mulholland, living at 420 Rebecca street, was trampled to death. Maggie Carney, a child of eight years was also run down and killed. A large band of Bridgeporters armed with every conceivable kind of weapon, pursued the cattle, killing them wherever found. Many were killed, drawn, quartered and carried off within a very few minutes after death. Out of the 110 head in the stampede, forty-three were either killed or lost. The remainder were secured after a night of hunting by the stock-yard men. The loss of Libby, McNeil & Libby is about $1,000.

Who Holds the Debt.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The June payment of interest on registered United States bonds is about completed. This year the largest single bondholder the Treasury Department knows is Mr. Vanderbilt, who will receive the interest on $37,000,000. A year ago he had $50,000,000, but he has disposed of $13,000,000 for some purpose. The next largest owner is Mrs. A. T. Stewart, who has about $30,000,000. Mr. Gould has $13,000,000 in registered bonds, and a large number of coupon bonds which he keeps to use as collaterals in Wall street when he needs large sums of money. On the other side of the water American securities are very popular, because the rate of interest is higher than that paid by any other great power. The house of the Rothschilds holds nearly one-quarter of America's whole bonded debt, as, including all the bankers of that name, they have $400,000,000.

One Young Cut-Throat Kills Another.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., June 25.—Yesterday morning William Childers, a young desperado of this county, was found in the road, near Dry Ridge, shot through the heart. Haden Northcutt, another young man, surrendered a few hours later confessing that he had murdered Childers for the alleged seduction of his sister, a young lady now said to reside in Kentucky, opposite Cincinnati. Childers was under indictment at Newport for complicity with one Saddlers in seriously stabbing Henry Mason, a conductor on the Newport & Dayton Street Railway. He was also indicted here for horsetealing, and had a thoroughly bad reputation.

Tremendous Blast.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—At the granite quarries at Syenite, about a hundred miles down the Iron Mountain Railroad, a blast took place, when 4,000 pounds of powder were discharged and over 50,000 tons of rock, by actual measurement, were lifted and turned over in masses convenient for cutting into pavement blocks. Some 20,000 or 30,000 tons more moved so as to make future quarrying operations comparatively easy.

An Opinion.

CINCINNATI, June 24.—A New York journal of to-day says: Mr. Foraker's opening speech was certainly creditable in style and adroit in its makeup, but in its statements and omissions it suffers by comparison with history and with the work there is to be done in this country.

Whisky's Victims.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Policeman O'Sullivan, of the Elizabeth street station, brought sixty-eight drunken vagrants, all of them women, to the Tombs Police Court Saturday. It took one hour and ten minutes to dispose of the prisoners. Then the Court officer fumigated the place.

THE barbed wire fence monopoly has been wiped out, the United States Circuit Court of Missouri having decided that the present manufacturers have not the exclusive right to make it. This is good news for the farmer.

SENATOR COLQUITT, of Georgia, is exuberantly generous to "the literary fellows" down South. Recently he presented a home and farm to a Southern poet and now he has presented a thousand dollar span of horses to Editor Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution.

THERE is an encouraging crop prospect through Southern Indiana. The barley harvest is progressing and some fields of wheat will be cut in a week. The yield of wheat will be above the average, and the barley is twenty per cent. better than was supposed. The corn fields are clean, and promise well.

THE Pension List, to be published by order of Congress, will make a work of 4,500 pages. It will contain a list of the pensioners, their post office address, the amount allowed in each case and the reason why. A list of each county will be furnished to the papers of that county and published by them.

THE following in defense of the English sparrow is from the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph: Antested contemporary, in its zeal to make out a case against the English sparrow, overreaches itself and shows the falsity of the charge that the bird has become the terror of the farmers throughout the State. It is ascertained, and reluctantly confessed, that the alleged destroyer of crops is practically unknown thirty or forty miles from this city, and within that radius some sensible farmers actually feed the birds in winter. A lot of very silly stuff, purporting to be the indignant expression of agriculturists, is published, but one indiscreet "sufferer" explains a great mystery. It has been charged that the sparrows "ravage the wheat fields." How this is possible is a problem intelligent observers have failed to solve. The sparrow cannot reach the lofty kernel from the ground; the slender stalk can not bear his weight and he cannot pick out the grain on the wing. When it is cut and put in stacks he can only pick around the outside. This agriculturalist Jeremiah, however, says it is when the wheat "breaks down" that the marauder gets his work in. And how much of the crop "breaks down"? A very little, indeed. The statement is simply another proof that the enemies of the sparrow indulge more in imagination than fact in their senseless warfare.

Hudson River Tunnel.
New York, June 24.—Work has begun on the south tunnel under the Hudson river, at the New York entrance, at the foot of Morton street. It is expected that sections of ten feet will be completed every twenty days. The present condition of the north tunnel is as follows:—From the Jersey side 1,600 feet have been completed and 170 feet from the New York side. The total length is 3,500 feet. Communication will be had between the two tunnels by means of connecting chambers at intervals of 250 feet the entire length. About one hundred men are now working, and an additional force of six hundred will be added as soon as the necessary funds are forthcoming.

Disgusted With Alaska.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—A gentleman who went to Alaska recently returns with no favorable opinion of that section of the United States. He says the steamship company made a great deal of noise about the country, but there is nothing to induce a man to stay there. Traders use leather checks for money. People go there on every ship by the hundreds, and a majority of them have no money to get away on. There is no chance there to work. A man can not walk one mile on account of the underbrush and moss being so thick. The only way a man can get around is in a canoe. There is no gravel around, and the quartz does not amount to much.

The Accused Jews.
LONDON, June 24.—In the trial yesterday at Nyregghaza, Hungary, of the Jews accused of having murdered a Christian girl and used her blood to mix with their Passover bread, witnesses for the prosecution contradicted each other, and also their own former statements. The Times correspondent believes the boy, Moritz Scharf, the principal witness for the prosecution, is a maniac.

Mid-Ocean Telegraphy.
NEW YORK, June 24.—Mid-ocean telegraph stations have been proposed, and will probably be carried out some day. Prof. E. A. Delbeac has proposed a plan which may make fixed communication which has been the problem unnecessary. A large metal plate attached to an insulated conductor is lowered from the ship to the bottom on the track of the cable, and another plate is merely submerged. Between these two plates a battery and Morse key is inserted. On working the key the Morse currents induce other currents in the cable, which can be heard in telephones attached to the cable on shore.

Death of a Well-Known Cincinnati.
ANDOVER, MASS., June 25.—A. R. Hinkle, aged 68, the well-known retired merchant of Cincinnati, died suddenly at this place to-day of heart disease. He left Cincinnati last Friday on a business and pleasure trip to the east. He was in excellent health when he left, remarking to a friend, just before boarding the train, that he never felt better in his life.

Compensation to Cincinnati Railroad Trustees.
CINCINNATI, June 25.—In the matter of the compensation of the Southern railroad trustees Judge Force, this morning, delivered the opinion of the Superior Court. The following sums were allowed the trustees: E. H. Ferguson, $7,500; Miles Greenwood, $1,250; Henry Mack, $4,375; Henry Schiff, $3,000; R. M. Bishop, $3,700.

Slaughtering Snakes.
REDDING, CAL., June 24.—The laborers on the railroad extension north of Redding are slaughtering snakes by the hundred. Every blast of powder sends into the air a writhing mass of serpents, and the noise made by the rattlesnakes is fearful. One man picked up 200 dead rattlesnakes last Sunday and saved the rattles.

A Night Watchman Burned.
STEVENSPOINT, WIS., June 24.—The large stove factory owned by McMillan Bros. at Mannville, was destroyed by fire on Saturday, and yesterday, the night watchman was burned. The loss is $5,000.

Vice at Long Branch.
PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—A new attraction at Long Branch this year is a glittering gambling-hell, at which games are conducted as openly as at Monaco and other continental gaming establishments, and where ladies are to be admitted to the play. The proprietor says that it is only a question of time when ladies will frequent the room and be seen at the far-table.

Small Farms Pay Best.
The Governor of Florida reports that the tendency of the agriculturists, of that State is toward small farms. The richest New York farmers are those who have grown berries and added every year an acre or two to their pear orchards and the most profitable farms of all are those within a few miles of this city, and whose managers bank considerable money yearly from the sale of vegetables grown on a few acres that are hired at $300 per acre per annum. One man who bought an up-river farm of twenty-three acres, twenty years ago, has for years averaged $7,000 yearly on the yield of pear trees that he planted himself. But the American farmer generally seems to imagine that humanity needs only wheat, corn and pork, so he attempts to raise these on a large scale, while the vegetables and fruits on his own table are purchased at high prices in city markets. The farmer should eat some thing besides meat and bread.—N. Y. Herald.

THE somewhat celebrated case of Evans against Berry has been decided by the Lewis Circuit Court in favor of the plaintiff, who gets a judgment for $10,000 damages. Hon. W. H. Wadsworth and Judge E. THERE is a prospect, that with the right kind of action by the city of Maysville, it will be possible to secure the location, at this place, of the machine shops of the Kentucky Central Railway. As it will bring to the city about five hundred workmen and will secure the expenditure here of a considerable sum of money each week, it would be well for some of our men of enterprise to investigate the matter.

PERSONALS.

Mr. S. Salomon arrived from Louisville last night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Robinson, of Kansas City, are visiting friends in the city. Ma. James Adamson, of Mt. Sterling, is in Maysville on a short visit to his friends.

Miss Emma Hauke left on the Morning Mail, Monday, on a visit to relatives in Ohio.

Miss Maggie L. Conway, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., is visiting the family of Mr. John Shea, of this city.

Mrs. Bell Seamon, of Covington, and Mrs. Emma Blanton, of Lewis county, are attending the bedside of their father.

Mrs. F. S. Leggett, of Pittsburg, and Miss Mamie Bidleman, of St. Louis, are the guests of the family of Mr. John Lovel.

A DESPATCH from Ripley, dated the 24th inst., says: A search of the cell, this morning, in which the Maysville rapist, Sam. Bulger, was confined, disclosed a box of forty-two caliber cartridges hidden under the floor. They belonged to an English bull-dog five-shot revolver, which was taken from him when arrested. Around the box was tied a narrow band of black ribbon, to better secure its contents, and from appearances the ribbon had been a bow to ornament some part of a lady's dress. The white man that assisted Bulger to escape from jail was described by him, when re-captured, as a heavy set man with black mustache, wearing a stiff hat and dark jeans pants. He has not yet been apprehended, but officers are on the lookout for him.

To the Public.

Relatives and friends of those Union soldiers buried in the Maysville cemetery whose graves are unmarked, or without headstones, are asked to furnish to the undersigned the name of such soldiers as well as the name of the company and regiment to which each one belonged, as it is the design to furnish headstones to all those soldiers whose graves have none.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Mrs. Robert Brookover, we regret to announce, is still quite sick.

The BULLETIN carrier is a most faithful and prompt deliverer of the papers.

Everybody says that the Second street wedding is drawing nigh. Such ardent devotion ought to win the prize.

Report says a Maysville hardware gentleman finds second street very attractive. She is as lovely in disposition as she is rich in personal charms.

The Fourth or July picnic is anticipated as being a large affair. If it don't rain and if the people don't all go to Maysville to have a picnic on the street cars, if they don't stay home to keep cool.

Saturday evening there was a good many of the suburban belles with their beaux taking an airing. Their fleet horses dashed through our little town in a twinkling, and swiftly flew out the pike.

It is surprising what self-conceit some of the town girls have when some of their pretty country friends visit them. The town girl will dodge in front of her country friend when she sees her gentlemen friends coming forward, and leave her country friend behind.

We had the pleasure lately of gazing upon roses in all their luxuriance of varied hues and choicest species at "Rose Terrace." Lovers of rare roses and those who have their aesthetic taste gratified at this charming place. Truly it is "love among the roses."

Of all the contemptible things it is the cunning maneuvering some people have, seeking information by purloining children. It is a dangerous practice, but to save their fingers from getting burnt they push the children into the flames. Anything to prevent themselves from getting scorched.

"Squire Beasley found last week a rushing business in the matrimonial line. It is not unusual to hear the boys cry out lustily, "Wedding!" two or three times a day—it certainly shows a good deal of pluck to face the mobs that pursue them. They never lack for witnesses to the marriage ceremony.

We know it is warm. At least the papers all say so, and we are convinced of it by every person we meet. It seemed to be the only subject of conversation—"Aint it hot?" This continually being reminded of the weather is enough to make one feverish. Do talk about something that is cooling—the last polar wave, for instance.

He resembled the duke as to his exquisite attire, and as for his manners he flattered himself they were perfection. It was evident he was bent on playing the agreeable to see if he could make a lasting impression. He would have thought different could he have heard her farewell exclamation, which sounded like "What an idiot!"

The bees in this locality have become somewhat obstreperous. "Squire Beasley can only keep his from taking flight by indulging them occasionally with a serene performance on the melodious instruments of tin cans and pans of every description, which causes the dear little bees to keel over with ecstatic emotion. Certes—music hath charms under all phases.

Friday night we were gently awakened from our Morpheus slumbers at the mystic hour of midnight by a deep, resonant bass voice, which had a weird effect heard in the stillness of the night. It was the novel way of announcing a wedding party, the bee was rung with a vim, accompanied by "Hello! Squire! here is a wedding couple from Bracken county, Ky. Hurry up, never mind primping, come, open the door, you look nice enough!" They were a most impatient couple. Some one warned them to keep quiet, as they might be reported in the DAILY BULLETIN. We hope their merriment will continue through life.

COUNTY POINTS.

MURPHYSVILLE.

Miss Kate Latham is at Maysville visiting. Mr. George Wood is over his malarial attack.

Quite a number went to Fleningsburg Monday, it being Court day at that place.

Hon. Will Thompson, of Dover, went home Monday, after enjoying a very pleasant visit with relatives here.

Wheat, corn and tobacco are claiming the attention of the farmers, and keeping them in a "sweat." They say help is scarce.

The moonlight fete and palm-leaf fan social at Sillup, Thursday night, was declared a success by the Murphyites that were present.

Mr. Otto Mullin, of Indiana, who spent the greater part of last winter with relatives here, was with us last week. He is now updating the metallic alphabet in the BULLETIN office.

There are people in this vicinity that want to see a cyclone so bad they are afraid one will pass over in the night while they are asleep. We do not care about seeing one ourselves, no, thank you, but if one does come we think it would be a grander sight by far to look at the eyes of these anxious people than the cyclone.

Rev. Miller, colored, has his church building completed, and the same was dedicated last Sabbath. Mr. Miller went to work in an earnest, "get-there-Eli" style, and in a few weeks erected a very fair edifice for divine worship, and collected the money to pay for it himself. Success to the pastor and his flock. Oh, if some person would only get interested and build us a school house!

Tell us not in mournful numbers, Life is but a moment's dream; With the advent of green apples, Things are fuller than they seem. So a person that had been indulging, told ONE EYE OPEN.

Can "Romano" inform us what has become of Sambo Puzer? Has he emigrated westward and lost himself in the potato patch?

We attended County Court at Fleningsburg Monday, and found the town lined with people, a few of whom had the jump on us and were jamming themselves around in a furious manner. Some stood on the market place, some on the sidewalks, and some on the shoulders of good horses for Eastern markets.

There is a law prohibiting the driving of stock along the public highway on Sunday, excepting where it is absolutely necessary. The practice, besides being offensive to the public, exhibits an absolute disregard for the Sabbath by the guilty parties themselves and we hope they will take notice.

We attended the Baptist and Christian union picnic, held in the beautiful grove of Dr. H. L. Perry, near Maysick, Wednesday, and found quite a crowd assembled and enjoying themselves in various ways. The Mayslick band entertained the crowd with music. A sumptuous dinner of all the delicacies of the season, besides the more substantial ones, was on hand in abundance. Numerous swimmers were put up for the little folks, croquet for those so inclined, a shady retreat for those desirous of protecting cupid's shafts. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen, dressed in the latest style, were in attendance. Among the latter Mr. A. P. Gooding and Mr. J. M. Mitchell with his pug-dog, and, of course, many belles enjoyed pleasant drives. By the by the occasion was a pleasant one.

BORN.

On Sunday, June 24, 1883, to the wife of Mr. Frank Stevens, a daughter.

It Didn't Work.

New York Morning Journal.
A gentleman in impetuous circumstances wished to make a handsome present to a friend entering the bonds of matrimony. He wrought out for himself a little scheme. He went to a wholesale store and asked to see some of their broken ware. Among other stuff he was shown a very handsome vase that was badly broken, which, in a good condition, would have been worth $75; the remains would sell. He purchased the "remains" and had them carefully packed and forwarded with his card, the recipients, of course, imagined that they had got broken on the way, and not informing him of the fact lest he might go to additional expense. Rather a clever dodge, as dodges go! But he told this to a friend who went and did likewise. He, however, was misunderstood by the dealer, who, in sending the "remains," had each piece carefully packed, so as to prevent further breakages, and consequently the ruse was exposed.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882. MESSRS. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.
